

CLERIHIEWS WRITTEN BY S3D STUDENTS

What is a clerihow?

A clerihow is a four-line poem about a person. The subject's name must be the last word of the first line and the last word in the second line must rhyme with this name. The third and fourth lines, which can be long or short, must rhyme. English writer Edmond Clerihew Bentley (1875-1956) invented a short, nonsense and funny poem and named it after himself: a clerihow.
