

Who are you?

Amy was having a usual day at school. The class was making a soft chatting sound and Ms. Flankwood was screening the board with her dusty white chalk. After a few minutes, the bell rang, it was recess time. But something unusual happened, the boy sitting next to Amy was starring at her, in a friendly way and Amy turned and asked him, "Is something wrong?" He slightly smiled and said, "Amy would you like to go to the cinema with me on Saturday?" "I'd love to," she replied excitedly.

Later, on the same day, she went on shopping to get some new clothes for her date after school. She got a tank top styled shirt with patterned arms that went with black and white silky pants and when she went to check out, the lady at the counter started to smirk at Amy. After packing the stuff, she said, "Don't try to impress anyone by wearing this." But Amy ignored the lady because she thought she could manage for herself. Then she went to a fashionable and trendy shoes shop where she found a pair of glossy high heel boots. She thought nothing could be better than that. But that was not all; the next morning she went to a hair salon and got an outrageous haircut. She went out of the salon with spiky short hair that was dyed with dark red colour. She looked like a rock star going to a concert to perform.

It was time for her date. She got ready in a hurry and left early so that she wouldn't be late. She got there 15 minutes earlier. After some time David arrived. She started waving at him but he wasn't quite looking at her. She went near him and said, "Hi!" He looked behind himself and questioned, "Do I know you?" She replied, "I'm Amy. We are in the same class. We are going to watch a movie, aren't we?" "Oh! You're Amy! Sorry. I couldn't recognize you." Amy felt so sad that she ran home instantly.

On the following Monday, David apologized to her about what had happened last Saturday. He said he wanted to tell her something. David softly said, "I... I like you, just the way you are. You don't have to get a new look to impress me. Your simplicity, what I think, is the best." She felt shy and replied, "I like you, too." Then they started going out together and had a cute and simple relationship.
