

One day, David was inside his classroom when Amy, his crush passed by him, he wanted to say hi but was too afraid to talk to her. Finally, David got his confidence to talk to Amy. He asked her if she would like to go to the cinema with him this Saturday and she agreed.

David and Amy both were very excited to see each other very soon. So Amy went to the salon the night before Saturday. She got the latest hairstyle trend. On the other hand, David wore his favorite jacket that day. So the day of their date arrived, David was waiting outside the cinema ten minutes earlier. Amy was late, and she arrived David was stunned; she looked so flashy with her green colored hair. It was spiked up like a rock star, but David didn't care how she looked. He knew how nice Amy was. Amy, on the other hand, acted quite different than usual. While they were watching the movie "Marvin and Simon's Adventure", Amy was being rude to each other people, and talking the whole time. David was fed up with her behavior and left, Amy chased after David in the rain and they stopped in a park. Amy then told David that she had been waiting for that day to come because she also liked him. She only acted that way because she thought David would not like her real self. David then hugged her softly and said, "You don't have to be anyone else; I like you just the way you are." Then they kissed and became boy friend and girl friend. The students in their school were happy for them and they enjoyed being together.