Dear Uncle John,

We have just returned from Malaysia for our summer holiday. Wow, what an amazing place!

We went to this island in Malaysia called Paradise Island which really lived up to its name and proved to be vastly different from Hong Kong as it was lined with white sandy beaches and the hills behind the beaches were home to tropical forests. Although there were no shopping malls and night life on the island, but there were lots of white sandy beaches, clean ocean water and jungles full of plants and trees. The view was so amazing that we took lots of photos with our camera and nearly finished the film of the camera. After taking photos of the wonderful and amazing scenery of the island, we decided to head back to our resort to take a rest. Since I wasn't very tired, I decided to relax and enjoy myself. I wasted no time and once I went for a swim in the crystal clear waters off our resort, I started to relax and appreciate the natural beauty of this wondrous island and enjoy the laid-back lifestyle.

Going on a trip with your family is fun and surely will be an unforgettable one. What I've learned from the trip is who needs shopping malls and night life when nature has so much to offer? I suggest you should go on a vacation with your family and I guarantee you that it would be worth it.

Fondest regards,

Ann
