

Life Journey at SEK

Writing Competition to Celebrate the 25th Anniversary of SEK School Campus

By Mbunga Olivia Garcia (4B)

SEK isn't just a school to me; it's like a second home. It's a vibrant, challenging and nurturing environment that has shaped me into the person I am today. SEK is a place which taught me lessons that textbooks couldn't offer. Academically, the school laid the foundation for my intellectual awakening. Here, I transitioned from memorizing facts to truly understanding concepts.

The dedication and hard work my fellow school mates showed inspired a passion for learning that I never knew I had. The school taught me that education is not a destination but a continuous journey of curiosity and critical thinking.

However, the most important lessons have been personal. SEK is a small part of our big world - a diverse community where I learned to collaborate, communicate, and sometimes compromise. Through sports, I learned about teamwork and resilience: that victory is sweet, but defeat is an even more valuable teacher. Through group projects and extracurricular activities like dance, I built confidence and formed lasting friendships with my schoolmates. The school's spirit taught me that integrity, respect and responsibility are not just school rules, but essential principles for life.

In essence, SEK has equipped me with the tools for my future: a disciplined mind, a resilient spirit and a compassionate heart. It has been a place where challenges became opportunities and mistakes became lessons. SEK means growth, community and the unwavering belief that we can all achieve greatness. It has prepared me not just for exams and tests, but for life - and for that, I will be forever grateful.
