A Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to Annie Chow, whose letter was published recently in your newspaper.

Annie Chow said that people should focus their attention on murder and than piracy because they are real crimes that are occurring in society and hurting She said that we are wasting time on piracy.

I disagree that piracy is not a problem. If we do not take it seriously, it will get worse. It is true that murder and robbery are more violent crimes but we should not neglect piracy.

I think Annie Chow fails to recognize the terrible effects of piracy. If you download pirated or illegal materials from the Internet, you will get caught and future will destroy. Computer games, films, songs and software are pirated all the time. If everyone buys cheap and pirate products, the designers and manufacturers of the real products will lose money as no one will buy their products. Unlicensed downloading from Internet is also illegal. The criminal gangs who sell pirate products will gain money and spread their crime more.

There are some suggestions which may help to solve these problems. Like, should stop buying or downloading illegal or pirate products. People will stop doing if the law gives tougher punishment to people found guilty of piracy. Do not try to download the products if you do not know it is legal or illegal and buy the real Piracy is immoral and should be stopped. Piracy is inexcusable, irresponsible and you should not support it.

I hope that your readers will join me and do not use pirate products or support piracy. If you do not support piracy, it can be stopped.

Yours faithfully,

C. Wong
